

Aled Jones

Singer, Television/Radio Personality, Broadcaster and Presenter

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Aled Jones is a Welsh singer, television/radio personality, broadcaster and television presenter (Escape to the Country and Cash in the Attic) who first came to fame as a treble. He is notable for presenting Songs of Praise on BBC 1, BBC Radio 2's, The Early Breakfast Show, Good Morning Sunday and The Choir on BBC Radio 3. He performs as a lyric baritone, though he has expressed a desire to move into the traditional register of the tenor.

"I've always wanted to be in control of my destiny and always in control of what music I record"

In detail

Aled became famous for the cover version of Walking in the Air, the song from Channel 4's 1982 animated film The Snowman. He sold over six million records before the age of 16. Jones went on to study at the Royal Academy of Music and the Bristol Old Vic Theatre School, before beginning his adult recording career, with a largely religious/inspirational repertoire. Jones has recorded twenty-four albums, many of which reached gold or platinum status in the UK and Australia.
