

Amy Williams

Presenter of the Gadget Show and Olympic Gold Medallist

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Amy Williams returned from the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympics a National heroine after claiming Team GB's only gold medal of the 2010 Winter Olympics in skeleton bobsleigh at her debut Olympic Games. In winning gold, she became Britain's first solo Winter Olympics champion in 30 years and the first woman individual gold medallist for 58 years. Having proven her deft touch on the notoriously fast Whistler track in 2009's World Cup, Amy dominated the Vancouver event - leading from start to finish.

"Amy Williams has been taken to the hearts of the whole nation"

In detail

A talented athlete, Amy excelled at most sports, enjoying particular success in the 200m and 400m where she reached county level. However, upon realising her talent at running fell short of her most coveted prize, wearing the Team GB vest, she quickly set her sights on a new challenge and with Bath University being home to a push-start track, the skeleton became the obvious sport to focus on! Showing immediate promise, Amy was fast tracked to the World Push Championships in 2002 where she came away with a silver medal!

What she offers you

Amy Williams' presentations are filled with genuinely motivating insights into how she made the successful transition to the ice, something that filled her with a mixture of exhilaration and terror. Her raw talent and courage combined to make inroads into the GB Skeleton scene and eventually onto the world stage, culminating in the ultimate accolade, 2010 Winter Olympic champion, and her likeable persona has gained her huge popularity both in the UK and abroad.

How she presents

Amy Williams is really easy to work with and a lovely, genuine girl, whose likeable character and story of success adds to any event.
