

Brent Sadler

Award-winning, Internationally Recognised Journalist, CNN
Correspondent to the Middle East

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Brent Sadler is an internationally recognised journalist who has spent much of his distinguished career reporting from the Middle East and has been at the heart of CNN's coverage for two decades. In 2009, he assumed a new role for CNN as a special correspondent for the program, Inside the Middle East, enabling him to pursue his interests in the global field of strategic communications - especially in the Middle East and Africa.

"One of the foremost war correspondents in broadcast news"

In detail

Brent Sadler has won numerous prestigious international news awards, including a US Emmy and two BAFTAs for his courageous and insightful reporting for CNN. He joined CNN in 1991 after 10 years as a news reporter for the British network ITN rising to the coveted post of ITN's Middle East correspondent for more than four years where he also worked for two years as an ITN senior reporter.

What he offers you

Brent Sadler has used his wealth of experience to develop interests in the field of strategic communications. His in-depth knowledge and experience helps develop lively discussions with key policy makers. He has moderated numerous high level panels and discussion groups.

How he presents

Brent skilfully takes audiences on a gripping, at times humorous odyssey of his adventures reporting global conflict - delving into the unpleasant dynamics of surviving gunshot wounds, to being caught in the middle of withering political crossfire.

Languages

He presents in English.

Want to know more?

Give us a call or send us an e-mail to find out exactly what he could bring to your event.

How to book him?

Simply phone, fax or e-mail us.

Topics

Don't Shoot the Messenger-Surviving Frontline News
Middle East - The Search for Peace
Awards Ceremonies
Host
Moderator
After Dinner Speaker