

Robert Swan OBE

Polar Explorer and Environmentalist

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Robert Swan is a polar explorer, environmentalist and the first man ever to walk unsupported to both the North and South Poles. As the founder of the 2041 Foundation, Robert has dedicated his life to the preservation of Antarctica and the planet through promoting renewable energy and sustainability.

"The greatest threat to our planet is the belief that someone else will save it"

In detail

As with the great explorers and adventurers in history, Robert Swan is the first man in history to walk to both the North and South Poles. Robert has also been working side-by-side with his son Barney over the last few years. On January 15th 2018 at the South Geographic Pole, the baton was passed onto Barney Swan, who, on that day, became the first person in history to journey to the South Pole powered entirely by renewable energy. This incredible feat marked the launch of CLIMATEFORCE, a 7 year campaign to remove 326 million tonnes of CO2 out of the atmosphere through effective solutions and education to encourage personal leadership in our carbon neutral future. CLIMATEFORCE continues to build on the 2041 legacy through action and personal leadership today and in the future.
